Jury Declares George W. Gingell Not Guilty Of Slaying Lee Wayne Mainer

SECOND HEIGES ACTION BEGINS THIS MORNING

Trial, for the second time, of Harold E. "Sam Heiges, Buford Ave., on a charge of involuntary manslaughter, began in Adams County court this morning.

The Heiges case had been heard in January court, but when the jury was unable to reach a verdict, the case was rescheduled for the current term of court and retried with a new jury.

Defense Counsel S. M. Raffensperger and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter exhausted the entire panel of jurors, 36, in court this morning, before they had selected the 12 who are hearing the case. The panel had been decreased by the action of the court Tuesday night in excusing those jurors who had served on the Gingell murder trial.

Before the Heiges case began this morning there were indications that the current period of trials—which originally had been scheduled for one week—may continue over into a third week. Judge W. C. Sheely asked the 36 jurors present today whether they could serve if the jury is held over into next week. A majority said they would serve.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, was the first witness for the commonwealth. He told of being called to the Warner Hospital on the morning of December 22. There, he said, he found Donald L. Shultz, 24, of 22 Breckenridge St., in the fire company rescue truck. The youth had died from a fractured skull. He said he set the time of death at 2:40 a.m.

The second witness, G. Henry Roth, a reporter-photographer for The Gettysburg Times, identified pictures he had taken at the scene of the accident east of here.

Surgeon Is Called

Melvin J. A. Miller, Gettysburg R. 5, manager of the Miller Trucking Co., said he had been operating the tractor portion of a tractor-trailer. The tractor failed to start and a dump truck was used to tow it to start the motor. Miller said he felt something bump the tractor, and then saw a car up-setting. Mr. and Mrs. Heiges and Donald Shultz were in the upset car, he said.

Dr. Roy W. Gifford, associate surgeon at the Warner Hospital, was on the stand when the court recessed at noon.

The jury hearing the case includes: Clarke Arendt, Arendtsville; Olive Bushey, Biglerville R. 1; Lewis Craumer, Littlestown; Mrs. Dorothy Davis, York Springs R. 2; Charles Fetrow, East Berlin; Mark Hartman, Biglerville R. 2; Mary E. ## TWO DELIVER SEMINARY WEEK LECTURES HERE

"Heresy is the failure of the word of God to become flesh in the preacher," declared Rev. Dr. James T. Cleland, the Zimmerman lecturer for Seminary Week at the local seminary. Dr. Cleland is professor of preaching in the Divinity School and dean of the chapel at Duke University. For 30 years the Seminary Week program has been the highlight of the alumni, students and friends of the seminary. The program this year will include the installation on Thursday afternoon of Dr. Jacob Heikkinen as professor of New Testament language, literature and theology and the inauguration of Dr. Howard Bream as professor of Biblical disciplines on the Kraft Foundation. Friday noon the Seminary Week will close.

"Common Heresy"

Dr. Cleland spoke on "one of the commonest heresies of preachers, that being their focusing their sermons either on the Bible only and referring to the past, or centering only on the contemporary situation and diagnosing all its ills. The latter forgets that God has a word of salvation for this situation. Contemporary preachers must link man with God through the word, and also relate horizontally man to man under this relationship with God. In order to do this, the minister must know both the word of God and the local community and the people who comprise it. This is the orthodox sermon."

"Because times are out of joint, we have a relevant word to this situation, which has its peculiarities," said Rev. Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, pastor of Concord Baptist Church of Christ in Brooklyn, N. Y. "Although the world is floundering."

ARMY CAPTAIN ADDRESSES VFW LOYALTY MEET

Capt. James Gridley, of the Army ROTC staff at Gettysburg college, told a Loyalty Day gathering at the VFW home, E. Middle St., Tuesday night that "Loyalty is not something that can be turned on and off like a faucet but a something that is part of citizens in his every action."

He praised the VFW nationally for conducting public Loyalty Day programs throughout the U. S. on May 1 to blunt the communist observance of May Day. A veteran of the Korean war, the West Point graduate said "We need to study communism for what it is, that is the only way to understand it, and combat it effectively."

A panel on "Loyalty Means Liberty" was presented with Arthur J. Roth as moderator. Various candidates made up the panel.

Candidates Speak

S. Walter Stauffer, Republican candidate for Congress, told the group, "We have many examples of loyalty daily. And we should respect and understand loyalty in others. Even the Japanese, when fighting us, were loyal to their nation and cause. We need to take that loyalty and the strength of causes in our consideration of the world."

Ernest E. Unger, Congressman James M. Quigley's district secretary, said: "The loyalty of many is always on display, but we mark most the loyalty of those who have fought for their country. There are as many acts of loyalty daily, but they are generally unobserved in peace time."

"PANTIE" RAID SENDS 6 MEN TO JAIL TODAY

Six Gettysburg College men spent nearly eight hours in jail in Carlisle this morning after staging a series of more or less unsuccessful "pantie" raids at four girls' dormitories on the Dickinson College campus there.

Carlisle police, summoned by a house mother who was aroused by a firecracker in time to see youths scampering down corridors and stairs and out of the building with a few articles of girls' clothing, caught the sextet in an auto a short time later and recovered the panties, bras and an electric iron that had been taken.

The six youths were taken before Justice of the Peace James Griest in Carlisle where they were charged with disorderly conduct and then were placed in jail where they remained until "ATO fraternity brothers" arrived from Gettysburg about 11 a.m. to bail them out.

Hearing On Friday

A $25 bond was posted for each culprit before Justice Griest requiring their appearance at a hearing before him Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Reports from Carlisle said that John S. Rice, chairman of the interim committee managing Gettysburg College, said an investigation would be made to see what disciplinary action is needed and the Gettysburg College student government also sent word to Dickinson that it would take a hand in matter.

The defendants charged before Justice Griest include: Robert M. Hartong, 24, Beaver, Pa.; Richard Wiese, 21, Yardley, Pa.; Joseph E. Gonzalez, 19, Plainfield, N. J.; Russell H. Frederick, 19, Haddonfield, N. J.; William P. Adams, 18, Upper Montclair, N. J., and Laverne Cook, 22, Brown's Mills, N. J.

The raids apparently began about 2 a.m. Entrance was gained at two of the four dormitories that were visited but Virginia Lang, a house mother at Drayer Hall, said no girls' rooms had been entered. Biddle House was the other dorm entered. Disturbances were caused at McIntyre House and Metzger Hall but they were not entered.

Dickinson and Gettysburg meet on the golf links tomorrow and on the baseball field Saturday. It was Dickinson's first "pantie" raid.

Defendant's Mother, Wife Embrace Him After Verdict Is Read Tuesday Evening

George Weller Gingell, 41-year-old Zora quarry owner, was found not guilty Tuesday evening of the slaying of Lee Wayne Mainer early on the morning of March 24 at the Tract Inn in Liberty Twp.

The verdict came four hours after the case went to the jury for deliberation.

Gingell, who has been a prisoner at the Adams County jail since the day Mainer died, March 25, was released immediately and he returned home with his family.

The verdict indicated the jury accepted Gingell's plea of "self-defense." After the verdict was read the jurors were excused from further attendance at this session of court and Judge W. C. Sheely told them he knew they had given the case "conscientious consideration."

Gingell's family and more than 100 others were in the court room when the verdict was read about 8:30 o'clock. Gingell was embraced by his weeping mother and then his wife, also crying, threw her arms around him and they walked out of the courtroom together a few minutes later.

Warns Against Demonstration

Attorney Edwin Nikirk rose to say to the court: "I would like to say for Mr. Gingell—" when Judge W. C. Sheely interrupted to tell Mr. Nikirk: "It is not necessary to thank anyone for doing his duty."

Before the verdict was read, Judge Sheely had warned the crowd in the court room that he would not permit "any demonstration whatsoever," no matter what the verdict was, and directed the spectators to remain in their seats until court adjourned.

Up to 30 or 40 persons had been in the court room from the time court recessed at 4:15 when the case went to the jury's hands. Some brought in sandwiches and spent the evening. There was a flurry of excitement at 6:40 p.m. when the jury returned to the court room for additional instructions on the charge of voluntary manslaughter and the requirements for acquittal on grounds of self-defense. Arrangements were made then for sandwiches and coffee to be brought in for the jury and the judge and attorneys went out to eat.

HISTORIANS VISIT SITES OF 3 MILLS

Members of the Adams County Historical Society Tuesday evening had recreated for them a picture of the mills that once were a thriving industry along Marsh Creek in the Knoxlyn area during a tour of the section in which the sites of three of the mills were explored.

Oldest of the group was the Knoxlyn mill, where the history of milling goes back more than two centuries into the earliest beginnings of the county. J. Hugh Scott, who operated the Knoxlyn mill until 1932, said a survey made by the Penns listed the "Widow McGack" as operating a mill in the area about 1740. The "McGack" mill was located about 200 yards from the site of the present mill, which was converted in 1932 by Dr. J. McCrea Dickson into a summer home.

The historians view the Dickson summer home where the various mill wheels, grinding wheels, etc., had been incorporated into the converted structure. The stones used for grinding hominy were the base for a walkway leading into building. Other millwheels were incorporated into a large fireplace. The sawmill pulleys were used as chandeliers, and what had been the roof over the sawmill was converted into a screened in porch.

Describes Operations

Mr. Scott described the labor that went into the periodic sharpening of the stone millwheels, when two men would spend a day bringing a sharper edge to the stone, using special mallets.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The high and mighty of official Washington, led by President Eisenhower, and scores of plain people paid a final tribute today to Alben W. Barkley.

The President, diplomats, senators, cabinet members, and Supreme Court justices filled the pews in Foundry Methodist Church at funeral services for the late Kentucky Democratic senator and former vice president.

And outside the gray stone church, in a drizzle of rain, other Americans who had held the storied "Veep" of the Truman administration in deep affection stood silent.

Friend Conducts Service
The service was conducted by the Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, pastor of the church, chaplain of the Senate, and longtime friend of Barkley.

In an overnight change of plans, Eisenhower postponed his weekly news conference until Friday in order to attend the funeral.

It had been announced yesterday that Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., American ambassador to the United Nations, would represent the President at the service.

Eisenhower, wearing a black suit and black bowtie, entered the church just before the service began. He was accompanied by his chief aide, Sherman Adams; Gen. Wilton B. Parsons, and his press secretary, James C. Hagerty.

Burial in Kentucky

Top officials of the Eisenhower administration mingled with Democrats of present and past eras at the church service.

Many important figures in the New Deal years sat side-by-side with today's Republican high command.

Besides the President, Vice President Nixon, Senate Republican leader Knowland of California, and Senate Democratic leader Johnson of Texas were among those attending.

From the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, among those who appeared were onetime news deal brain trusters Thomas G. ("Tommy the Cork") Corcoran and James P. McGranery, who was attorney general in the last months of the Truman administration.

Sir Roger Makins, the British ambassador, was among the many foreign diplomats in attendance.

"TREAT THEM KINDLY"

Animals need human kindness... yes, this fact is very true... for they have a way of knowing... what is what and who is who... animals make good companions... they are faithful to the end... it's been told in song and story... that a dog is man's best friend... pets are instruments of good will... and they strengthen family ties... there are many tears of sorrow... when a lovable creature dies... so we should regard them highly... doing all we can to see... that they are not mistreated... to large or small degree... be kind to animals because... they thrive on tender care... the gain will be a peaceful heart... and joy beyond compare.

Whisler appeared in a dress she made to have displayed at Penney's during their annual sew and save week and sang "While Strolling Through The Park One Day."

The closing scene of the "Carnival of Fashions" presented a wardrobe from early spring to late fall, and included: A blue wool skirt and weskit with matching pocketbook; Barbara Grove; novelty cotton weave jumper, Janet Ripka; polished cotton, with cape, Joanne Priestland; polished print cotton, Sally Fory; cotton satin two piece, Mary Hess; cotton skirt and percale blouse, Thelma Rebert; corduroy skirt and cotton blouse, Mary Rohm; sports outfit, including Bermuda shorts, Vonnie Woodward; corduroy slacks, Shirley Hoff; percale date dress, Shirley Showaker.

The audience then witnessed four bandboxes appearing on stage, out of which stepped Marion Worley in a two piece princess style jumper; Donna Whisler in a corduroy tailored suit lined with gold millum; Nancy Trump in a dressy suit of gray flannel and Gerrie Warner in a pink check gingham with a row of ruffles to form a bustle effect in the back, and repeated at the neckline.

At the conclusion of the show, Mary Ann Burgoon sang "A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody." Miss Burgoon and Gary Streivig both sang selections during the modeling of the fashions. Anita Light was narrator for the second portion. Both narrators wore dresses of their own creation.

"The home of Miss Martha Dickson, near the mill, was also viewed by the historians who found it a 'veritable museum of beautiful antique furnishings.' The home, back in the days when the mill was operating at full capacity and before federal and state laws on the subject, had been a distillery, Scott told the group. Later it was converted into a home for the miller and then renovated by Miss Dickson.

See Woolen Mill Site
Continuing along the Knoxlyn Rd., the historians took a side trip to the site of a Knoxlyn woolen mill, which many years ago provided blankets, carpeting and similar articles for the Gettysburg area. Mrs. Harry Troxell reported that her family had had some of the blankets produced by the mill.

Told About Heret's Mill
Final stop was at the Heret's Mill, which burned many years ago. The millrace has been filled in and only parts of the foundation remain, J. Kermit Heret, N. Howard St., told the group the original mill possibly was constructed in 1809. A deed granted in 1809 from Alexander Cobean to Christopher Harsby has the penciled notation on it "1809—mill built." Alexander Cobean received the land on which Heret's mill was located from the Penns in 1780 or '90. George Trostle was believed to have built the first mill in the early 1800s, which burned while it was owned by a Weigle.

Isaac Heret, grandfather of J. Kermit Heret, and Isaac Heret's father-in-law, Daniel Mickley, built a larger mill in the 1800s. Isaac Heret operated the mill for many years, and later his son, J. I. Heret operated it for a time, then in the early 1900s sold it to Emory Reigle. The mill had a succession of owners and then J. I. Heret resumed ownership and operation of the mill and operated it during the World War I period. In the spring of 1924 he sold the mill to a Charles Bream, and a short time later fire destroyed the mill and sawmill beside it. Heret said the millrace, now filled in, ran from a dam on Marsh Creek a half mile from the mill.

The tour concluded by returning to Gettysburg on the Heret's Mill road, which extends from the Fairfield Rd., near the state police barracks, across the golf course area, to the mill, near Knoxlyn. Older members of the historical society recalled that the Heret's mill road was not only popular with persons going to the mill, but with others who wished to escape the toll roads on the Fairfield and Chambersburg pikes.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg was in charge of the tour and spoke briefly at each site. The next tour of the society will be held in June.

The union has not stipulated specific wage and benefit demands. The company, with headquarters in New York, has a plant in Depue, Ill., and mines or processing works in New Jersey and in the Midwest and Southwest.

2 RED LEADERS APPEAR TO WANT GOOD RELATIONS

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — One thing showed through the busy burst of busting at the Moscow airport this week when everybody who is anybody in Russia kissed Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Khrushchev.

The two Red leaders, returning from Britain like men who needed affection after the cool reception there, seem determined to improve relations with the West or give a good impression of trying.

They could have arrived home in a huff. It wouldn't have been surprising. The British Socialists had needed Khrushchev into blowing his top. And their talks with Prime Minister Eden were not, according to reports, overly successful.

Instead, as soon as they alighted from their plane they gave a friendly nod toward the British Isles and then turned their full gaze on the United States like two traveling salesmen getting ready for a new customer and hardly able to wait.

Progress Is Available
If the United States and the Soviet Union both show good will, Khrushchev said, they can make a lot of progress in developing trade and cultural relations and solving the disarmament problem.

These two men, Bulganin and Khrushchev, with their trips to Yugoslavia, Asia and Britain, have gone to a lot of trouble to make Russia look like a friendly neighbor on the street of nations.

There is danger of underestimating them. It is usual in this country to be suspicious and even scornful of the Russians. The suspicion is natural since Khrushchev himself has said communism's aim remains the same: to communize the world.

But scorn is out of date. The Russians are no longer backward. They are next to this country in industrial development. They may pull abreast. And in the past couple of years they have shown initiative and imagination.

What effect they're having with their new tactics may not appear for a year, or five years or a decade. In this country the habit is to judge the success or failure of foreign policy in terms of months or at the most four years.

Every four years the administration, Democratic or Republican, has to justify its foreign policy before the voters. But time has a different meaning for the Russian leaders. They are not answerable at any given moment to the Russian people.

And, since they operate on the theory that communism will win out in the end, they can take their time. Bulganin and Khrushchev are moving fast but they still don't act like men in a rush.

ABBOTTSTOWN CRASH

A tractor-trailer owned by the W. L. Butler Transfer Co., Elizabethtown, N. C., and driven by Alphonso Johnson, of the same city, and an automobile operated by Mrs. Ronald Hoke, Abbotstown R. 1, collided at the east end of the square in Abbotstown at 7:05 a.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Hoke said she was traveling west on the Lincoln Highway and approaching the circle in the square and the tractor-trailer, traveling east, made a left turn to enter the East Berlin road when the accident happened. State police of the Gettysburg detail who investigated estimated damage to the Hoke machine at $300 and none to the truck and trailer, loaded with lumber.

The Mt. St. Mary's College baseball team ended a four-game losing streak 7-5 Tuesday at Emmitsburg in a Mason-Dixon Conference game. Coach Jim Phelan's Mountaineers, now 4-7 for the season, play at American University today and at Georgetown Saturday.

viction for a degree of murder "consistent with the facts." He described the case as "pathetic and important" and said "if Gingell is acquitted it is better that it be a hard fought case. If he's innocent, I for one want you to acquit him. The question is whether it was necessary for him to take a life."

He raised a question as to whether Mainer was as "black" as he was painted in the trial and pointed out that most who described him were "Gingell's friends or folk at the Tract Inn." He suggested that if all the facts were known whether Mainer might have had some justification for his feeling toward Gingell.

"Life cannot be taken except in the most extreme circumstances and I am sure the jury will not subscribe to the propriety of saying that a man like Mainer should be killed," he continued. He suggested that other methods of escape and of avoiding Mainer were open to Gingell and he did not use them.

Cites Five Verdicts

Teeter told the jury there were five possible verdicts: First degree murder with the death penalty; first degree with life imprisonment; second degree murder; voluntary manslaughter and not guilty and described briefly the crime covered by each degree. He gave most attention to describing the crime of voluntary manslaughter and that was interpreted by some as indicating the level at which he was seeking conviction.

He returned to the matter of self-defense: "Generally words are not enough provocation to justify the taking of life. The defense must show the necessity for taking life, and that necessity must be real and imminent and in the face of death itself. There is a duty to retreat if possible, rather than take life and the force used in self-defense must be proportionate to the threat. What kind of a situation would we have here in Adams County if we followed any other kind of rule?"

Questions "Great Fear"

He questioned whether Gingell exhibited "great fear" of Mainer when he walked to the bar, where Mainer was, to finish a drink rather than use the opportunity to leave before he was discovered by Mainer. "Mainer was unarmed and Gingell did not call on his friends for help. He did not use the telephone right beside him."

"Gingell had fair cause to hate Mainer and no doubt he fired of his remarks. Did he act out of hatred or ill-will and maybe use the situation as an excuse? I ask the jury to decide if Gingell did not take the law into his own hands, instead of calling upon legally constituted authority." Teeter said, and concluded by asking the jury to "fit the facts" into the degree of the crime which they felt had been committed.

Judge Sheely told the jury they were the "sole judges" of the facts in the case. "It is your duty to recall all the testimony and base your decision solely upon it. You must also apply the law to these facts." He pointed out that there had been major and minor discrepancies in the testimony and told them they must decide which is to be believed, taking into account the credibility of witnesses and the "rules of human probabilities."

Defines Murder Degrees

The court devoted considerable time to defining the various degrees of murder and read sections of court decisions interpreting the law. Voluntary manslaughter was described in brief as the intentional and unlawful killing, without malice but under the influence of sudden passion and that passion might be anger, rage, resentment or terror. He explained the absence of malice distinguished manslaughter from a more serious degree of homicide.

He went in the matter of self-defense thorough, describing the circumstances under which it is justified as a defense against a charge of murder. He told the jurors they must place themselves in the place of the defendant and judge the facts as they were at the time of the event, remembering that "no man's foresight is required in a court of law to be as good as his critics' hindsight."

Reviews Testimony

Judge Sheely reviewed main points of testimony of all important witnesses and told the jury it was necessary for them to determine what was in the defendant's mind. The only direct suggestion the judge made to the jury was to say as he concluded: "I can see no justification for the death penalty in this case but if you see fit you have the right to decide upon it."

The case began a week before with the selection of the jury on Tuesday of last week. Testimony began Thursday morning, ran through Friday, Saturday and Monday and was completed Tuesday morning.

Mr. Teeter indicated today no other charges are considered against Gingell. "The jury seems to have based the verdict on self-defense and that would be a defense against involuntary manslaughter or assault," he pointed out.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Mrs. Sophia Zimmerman Gives College $50,000 Trust Fund: Gettysburg college will receive a $50,000 trust fund from Mrs. Sophia Elizabeth Zimmerman, wife of Dr. Jeremiah Zimmerman, Syracuse, New York. It was learned today when Mrs. Zimmerman's will was filed for probate in Syracuse. The trust fund is to be used to purchase books for the college library according to the terms of Mrs. Zimmerman's will.

Mrs. Zimmerman's gift is only one of many made by her and her distinguished husband to the college and seminary. Their most important gift has been 75,000 volumes to Gettysburg college library, many of them rare books.

C. of C. Urges Support Of Library Act: An appropriation of $20,000 to the department of public instruction for two years for the purpose of rendering state aid to county libraries and for the purchase and transportation of books is provided for in an act now before the state legislature.

This bill is attracting more than usual interest in Gettysburg and Adams county. It follows the proposal of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce library committee, John Kickerbocker, chairman, to establish rural libraries.

Mr. Kickerbocker and his committee are urging Gettysburg and rural residents to support the measure by writing Representative Sheely and State Senator Clippinger to vote for the bill when it comes up to vote.

This aid will assure Adams county of a free public library such as is being urged and sponsored by the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce.

Open World's Highest Edifice: New York, May 2 (AP) — Alfred E. Smith formally presented to the public Friday his outstanding achievement as a private citizen — the Empire State building.

On the site of the old Waldorf-Astoria hotel, at Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, it reaches nearly a quarter of a mile in the sky.

In its observation tower, beneath the burnished metal dirigible mooring mast that glows in the spring sunshine 1,248 feet above the pavement, the former governor viewed the landscape with his old friends and political associates, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mayor James G. Walker.

A few minutes before that the man who had defeated Smith for president in 1928 had stepped into the telegraph room at the White House in Washington and pressed a key that flooded the lobby of the new skyscraper with light and formally marked its opening.

Miss Anne Gilbert Married Tuesday: Miss Ann Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Gilbert, Chambersburg street, and Patrolman James G. Warren, of the state highway motor patrol, stationed at Chambersburg, were married at the parsonage of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Hanover, by the Rev. O. C. Dean at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Bullett Heads Rotary Club: Eugene V. Bullett Esq. was elected president of the Gettysburg Rotary club at a meeting of the directors of the organization. Mr. Bullett, with law offices in the First National bank building, was treasurer of the club. He is vice president of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce and Republican candidate for district attorney of Adams county.

Mr. Bullett succeeds Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer of the Gettysburg seminary faculty. Other officers elected were Fred Grist, Flora Dale, vice president; C. W. Cook, center square merchant, re-elected secretary; Dr. C. N. Gitt, treasurer.

Today's Talk

TRANQUILITY

That one who has learned to give order to his mind has come to know the joys of tranquility. All great leaders have discovered it and experienced ease and spiritual blessings. Marcus Aurelius must have had this tranquility of mind or he could not have written such a book as he did, that has inspired millions of people over several centuries.

Tranquility is something that resides in the soul, ordered there through a knowledge of the miraculous forces that are to be found in nature. The wind in the willows, the star-studded sky, the ever-recurring seasons, the gentle rain-drops, and the beauty of growth and reproduction.

Meditate upon the good in life. Do not be disturbed by false joys or idle rumors. Dedicate your life. Communicate with your inner emotions. In the words of Socrates, "Know Thyself." The troubled heart is certain to find tranquility in God.

Health depends upon this vital force. The clean tongue, the rhythmic heart, the calm path of the entire nervous system, and all freedom from worries and mental fears bring about tranquility, hope and confidence. Is this not worth attainment? What is the value of material possessions without an inner and ever-celebrating peace? What a world of anxiety and troubled days and nights could be eliminated by merely telling oneself to "Never Mind! Always how dead are the fears of yesterday, or even last week! We are here upon this beautiful earth for a purpose. To fulfill that purpose should be our daily aim. To solve that problem is to earn tranquility.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Kindnesses That Return"

FEEL MARINES MADE GOOD MOVE TO BAN MESSES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top Pentagon officials say they believe the Marine Corps has taken the necessary steps to prevent any more incidents like the drowning of six recruits on a night disciplinary march at Parris Island, S.C.

Secretary of Defense Wilson told his news conference yesterday he thinks "the best possible solution was worked out and I hope it will be accepted by everybody."

Secretary of the Navy Thomas put out a statement saying he was confident orders issued by Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, Marine commandant, "will prevent the recurrence of a tragic incident of this kind."

Closer Supervision
Earlier in the day, Pate reported to the House Armed Services Committee that, in the wake of a Corps inquiry into the drownings last month, he had reorganized the training command, ordered closer supervision of non-commissioned drill instructors, and shifted Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, commander at the Parris Island boot camp, to Camp Lejeune, N.C., where there is no recruit training.

The Marines have recommended the court-martial trial of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKoon of Worcester, Mass., on four charges, including manslaughter. McKoon, a World War II and Korean War veteran, ordered the night march that ended in disaster. The inquiry court found he was under the influence of vodka at the time of the unauthorized march.

Thomas said formal charges were being prepared in his office, preparatory to bringing McKoon to trial. Maximum penalty on the manslaughter charge, the most serious of the four, is 10 years in prison.

New Indian Policy Curbs Private Effort

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru announced Monday a new government industrial policy paving the way for more nationalization and further limiting the role of private enterprise in the Indian economy.

Nehru sent to Parliament an "industrial policy resolution" saying "the state will progressively assume predominant and direct responsibility for setting up new industrial undertakings."

The directive did not mention foreign capital. But Nehru has indicated India is sticking to a 7-year-old policy that foreign investors must "conform" with government industrial policy and arrange for Indians to assume progressive control of industries.

AIRLINE GETS FIVE-YEAR LANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allegheny Airlines has been authorized by a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner to operate between Erie, Pa., and Detroit for five years.

Examiner Barron Fredericks also recommended yesterday that Lake Central Airlines be permitted to operate beyond Youngstown, Ohio, to Buffalo, N. Y., by way of Erie for five years.

Unless objections are filed, Fredericks' recommendations will be accepted by the full board as final. Fredericks recommended denial of competing applications by Mohawk Airlines and North Central Airlines.

He said extension of Allegheny's service beyond Erie to Detroit would improve local service between the two cities, increase the airline's operational flexibility, and would give several New York and Pennsylvania cities their first direct service to Detroit.

Fredericks said these cities included Jamestown, N.Y.-Warren, Pa.; Bradford, Pa.-Olean, N. Y.; and Harrisburg-York, Lancaster, Scranton-Wilkes-Barre, Oil City-Phillipsburg-Bellefonte-State College, all in Pennsylvania.

Negro Is Given Dickinson Degree

CARLEISLE, Pa. (AP)—An honorary degree was awarded Tuesday by Dickinson College to its first Negro graduate at Founders Day exercises.

Honorary doctorates were also conferred upon President Robert L. D. Davidson of Westminster College (Mo.), who was the Founders Day speaker, and President D. Fred Wertz of Locomobile College. Both are Dickinson alumni.

Body Of Missing Man Found In Creek

YORK, Pa. (AP)—The body of a 50-year-old Luzerne County man, missing since April 7, was found in Codorus Creek about one mile north of here Sunday.

York County Coroner Lester Sell said Carl Lawson, 60, Sugar Notch, had been in the water about 21 days. He said that despite a thorough examination the cause of Lawson's death could not be determined. Identification was made through papers in the man's pockets.

Lawson had been visiting a son, Edward, of West York, when he disappeared. His body was discovered by a York High School student who was walking beside the creek.

Lung Surgery For Cancer Justifiable

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Operations on the lungs to prove or disprove the existence of cancer now are justifiable in some cases, says a chest surgeon of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School.

The thing which makes this surgical gamble attractive, Dr. Julian Johnson told the California Medical Assn., is a statistical showing that the chances for a cure are good if the malignancy is no larger than the size of the average man's thumbnail.

Recent progress in surgical techniques and in the use of anesthetics has reduced the risk of the operation itself to the point where it may be less of a hazard than an X-ray shadow that may be cancer, Dr. Johnson said.

Boy Strangled While Playing

HARRISBURG (AP)—An 11-year-old boy, playing with a belt, was killed Saturday when his neck was caught in a loop over a door knob.

Dr. James S. Koury Jr., deputy coroner, said that strangulation caused the death of the boy, Nelson M. Hill Jr.

The boy's mother, returning from a shopping trip, found her son hanging by a belt from a knob on a kitchen cupboard, police reported.

Mrs. Hill told police the boy apparently was playing with the belt when he became entangled in it.

TOO MANY FISHING

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Delegate Edward M. Hudgins, of Chesterfield, wanted to let folks over 65 fish in Virginia without a license, but the legislature killed his bill. Too many of them, said Game Commissioner J. T. Quinn, and it would seriously affect the department's revenues.

Workers outside the United States, Communist and anti-Communist, heralded May Day with traditional parades and speeches today. Moscow, Peiping, Tokyo and Rome were sites of some of the larger celebrations.

In a new observance this year in Rome, thousands of Roman Catholic workers gathered to mark the Liturgical Feast of St. Joseph, the carpenter of Nazareth. Leaders of Italy's Communist party — the biggest outside the Iron Curtain — called their own nationwide observance in Rome's Piazza del Popolo (People's Square), a little more than a mile from St. Peter's Square.

There also was something new in Moscow this May Day. Holiday decorations failed to display any pictures of the late Joseph Stalin in the spots they used to dominate.

There were some large portraits of Lenin in prominent places, but the most common decorations were pictures of the 11-man Presidium, featuring Premier Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev. This is in line with the new Communist emphasis on collective leadership.

The Kremlin chiefs watched a 42-minute parade of military might through Moscow's Red Square, followed by the annual march of thousands of athletes and civilians. Overhead zoomed what Moscow radio identified only as "new type" Mikoyan jet fighters, presumably from the drawing board of top Communist aircraft designer Artem I. Mikoyan.

The day's chief speaker in Russia was the defense minister, Marshal Georgi Zhukov, who told his troops the Soviet Union "will continue persistently to follow Lenin's principle of peaceful co-existence of states having different political and social systems."

Ecker Getting Relief From Heavy Chores; Led Bubblers To Pinnacle In Sports Circles

This area's most successful scholastic athletic coach, "Bud" Ecker of Boiling Springs, is gradually giving up some of the duties he has been carrying since becoming head football, basketball and baseball coach of the Bubblers in 1949, to which was later added the athletic directorship.

Ecker attended Littlestown High School but spent his senior year at Gettysburg High School. He later graduated from Gettysburg College where he starred as a catcher on the baseball team.

Recently William Minnick, a teacher at Hannah Penn Junior High, York, was named as head basketball coach starting next year. He will also aid Ecker in football. Art Smith will continue as a football assistant while Jack Harford advances for Junior High coach to be another assistant to Ecker. Harford continues as the wrestling and track coach. Ronald Finkenbinder, another new teacher, will aid in football and assist Minnick in basketball.

Under Ecker Boiling Springs, which is a class B school and has an enrollment of but 101 boys in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades, became one of the schoolboy powers in this section and numbers many class A schools as victims.

Gridiron Record

The Bubblers football teams compiled a 57-14-2 record under Ecker as follows: 1949, 10-0-1, runner-up in Twin Valley Conference; 1950, 7-4, Twin Valley champs; 1951, 10-0, Lower Susquehanna Conference Class B champs; 1952, 9-2-1, runner up in Lower Susquehanna; 1953, 5-5; 1954, 9-2, runner-up in Lower Susquehanna; 1955, 7-2. During those years the Bubblers at one time had a 27-game winning streak.

In seven years of basketball the Bubblers won the Adams County League championship five times, and in 1954 lost to Kutztown and this year to Columbia in the District 3 Class B playoff finals. His teams won 154, lost 31.

The record: 1949-50, 21-4; 1950-51, 15-6; 1951-52, 18-0; 1952-53, 24-3; 1953-54, 27-3; 1954-55, 21-4; 1955, 28-5.

Baseball Titles

While compiling an 20-26 record in baseball under Ecker, the Bubblers swept the Adams County League titles four years and last year took the playoff honors. During the 1952 and 1953 seasons his teams ran up a 29-game winning streak.

Records for the past seven years follow: 1949, 18-4; 1950, 14-6; 1951, 17-4; 1952, 16-3; 1953, 20-0; 1954, 17-4; 1955, 8-5.

17 HORSES WILL BE ENTERED IN KENTUCKY DERBY

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The names of 17 horses are expected to be dropped into the entry box tomorrow for the 82nd and richest Kentucky Derby with Needles still the horse to beat in the opinion of the men who'll tighten the saddle girths on the finely tuned 3-year-old colts.

With only a dissenting vote here and there, the trainers went right down the line today in the selection of the son of Ponder, the 1949 Derby winner, to take down the major share of the $125,000 added purses.

Victory of Calumet Farm's Fabius yesterday in the mile of the Derby Trial and the unexpected strong showing of several horses behind him only tended to increase the size of the field. Only once since Count Turf defeated 19 rivals in 1951 has as many as 16 faced the starting barrier. Sixteen were in the field the day Determine won two years ago.

In Second Spot

Asked to name the horse to beat after Fabius stepped the mile in 1:36 3/5 and turn back the surprising stretch challenge of Countermind with Head Man third, the trainers of the leading candidates still strung along with Needles. The Florida Derby and Flamingo Stakes winner owned by Jack Dudley and Bonnie Heath is expected to go postward as the 2-1 choice.

Fabius' victory in the trial, turned in under Willie Hartack's strong stretch ride, moved the Calumet entry into the second spot in the pre-race calculations at 3-1. As of now Fabius' running mate is

THREE SCHOOLS PENALIZED FOR NCAA VIOLATION

By ERNEST BARTON

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Ass'n. council was expected to hand down some of its severest penalties today as it dealt with schools that have violated rules during the past year.

The 18-man, policy-directing group placed three schools—Texas A&M, Mississippi College and the University of Kansas—on probation yesterday. Only Texas A&M received penalties besides the probation.

The Southwest Conference military school was barred from entering "athletes or teams in national collegiate championship competition and those invitational events which cooperate with the NCAA in the administration of its enforcement program." The ruling includes postseason football bowl games.

Penalties Effective Now

All probations were effective immediately. All except Texas A&M's last for one year. The Texas school was placed on probation until May 14, 1957, the same date its probationary period in the Southwest Conference ends.

The council's action followed a report from the Committee on Infractions, headed by A. D. Kirwan of the University of Kentucky.

Clarence P. Houston of Tufts University, president of the NCAA and chairman of the council, said when a school is on probation its athletic program is "subject to close inspection and scrutiny."

"Any malpractice during the probationary period will seriously jeopardize the institution's membership in the NCAA."

The Texas A&M violations occurred in its football program, while the Kansas and Mississippi infractions were connected with basketball, said Walter Byers, NCAA executive director.

In its resolution, the NCAA council said Texas A&M was found guilty during April 1955 of offering at least two prospective student athletes "financial aid in excess of that permitted by this association and the Southwest Athletic Conference."

The NCAA said it had evidence that a Kansas staff member provided round-trip transportation for a prospective student athlete to visit in "at least one instance."

Arthur (Dutch) Lomborg, University of Kansas athletic director, admitted last night the charge was true.

The NCAA said the now-defunct Mississippi Educational Foundation provided financial assistance to three student athletes at Mississippi during the winter of 1953-54. The council said the aid was not administered by the school as required by NCAA regulations.

There was no immediate comment from Texas A&M or Mississippi officials.

BROWN SEEKS KNOCKOUT

HOUSTON (AP)—Joey Brown, a 3-2 underdog seeking a rematch for the title, says he will try for a knockout against world's light-weight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith in their scheduled 10-round, non-title boxing match tonight.

A crowd of about 7,500 is expected for the Sam Houston Coliseum match that will be televised nationally (9 p.m. EST).

Brown, a 29-year-old New Orleans Negro who calls himself the man nobody wants to fight, says a knockout, particularly by the sixth round, should force Smith to accept a rematch for the title.

Constable smashed a homerun with two mates aboard in the fourth inning and singled in the sixth to drive over Laverne Shultz, who had tripled, with what was to prove the winning run.

New Oxford crashed into the win column for the first time this season when it edged Fairfield 4-3 in a tight pitchers' duel between Don Wiseman, the winner, and Sam Scott.

Wiseman gave up on two hits while Scott yielded but three. All hits during the game were limited to singles.

Big Spring blanked Littlestown 6-0 at Newville as Lay held the Thunderbolts to four singles, two of which were secured by Len Potter.
Four runs in the second inning iced the game for Big Spring.
Four teams, Fairfield, Littlestown, East Berlin and Big Spring, are now knotted for fourth place in the league in a battle to gain the league playoffs which includes the four top teams in the final standing.

If only Dalatran the electric brain could talk, maybe it would have some explanation as to why the Detroit Tigers are in seventh place in the American League today, just half a game out of the basement.

Dalatran, you may recall, picked the Tigers to win the pennant and no "ifs" about it. Most of the experts thought the New York Yankees would win it.

Actually, the reasons for the Tigers' failings are apparent enough. The power boys of the Bengal lineup—Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn and Ray Boone — aren't hitting. Boone has a .262 average, Kaline .227 and Kuenn .190.

The Tigers dropped a 9-2 decision to the Yanks in New York yesterday. Although the defeat was humiliating, Manager Bucky Harris found some cause for optimism. Kaline and Boone each collected two hits and Kuenn one, so they may be snapping out of it.

News Items For Upper End

Cooking School Will Feature "Salute To Upper Communities"

Upper Adams County will have its day at the 28th annual Gettysburg Times Cooking School next Tuesday night. That evening has been designated "Salute To The Upper Communities."

In prior years the school moved from Littlestown to Gettysburg to the South Mountain Fairgrounds during a two-week period. This year, because of the construction of the new, comfortable, 1,500 seat auditorium at Gettysburg High School and the demands of other cooking schools in other cities for the services of the home economist, Madeline D. Linehan, it was decided to conduct the school on five consecutive nights and hold all of the sessions at the Gettysburg High School auditorium.

Monday night will be salute to Littlestown night and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will be Adams County Nights. Because many attended the sessions in all three locations, it is hoped that this year's school will be more convenient to all. Officials of the cooking school stressed that all are welcome every night, but that the special nights were designated to honor those localities.

As in the past a number of Upper Adams merchants are participating in the school which this year will feature the awarding of more than $5,000 in gifts—the largest amount in the school's history.

Participating Merchants

The Upper Adams merchants participating in the school include Baker's Meat Market, Biglerville; Bob's Diner, Aspers R. D.; Bushman's Store, Arendtsville; M. L. Ditzler, Furniture, Biglerville; Gettler's Bakery, Biglerville; Klinefelter's Electric Service, Biglerville; G. E. Motter, Gardeners; John J. Reinhardt, Fairfield, and E. H. Sachs, Biglerville. In addition the C. H. Musselman Co., Biglerville, will have a special display in the foyer of the auditorium and will give cans of food products away each night in the food baskets to be awarded those attending the classes.

Bushman's Store, Arendtsville, will also have a special display of general merchandise and Du Pont

Growers Are Looking Forward To Adams County Peach Harvest Of 350,000 Bushels This Year

Pennsylvania peach growers are planning a program that will culminate in Pennsylvania Peach Week August 16-25 and will mark, with favorable weather, the harvesting of bumper crop of 2,500,000 bushels in the state, of which about 350,000 bushels will be grown in Adams County.

Mrs. Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale, will again head the annual peach dessert contest held in connection with the promotion of peaches by the Pennsylvania State Horticultural Association. The new peach queen will be chosen August 18, at the annual peach dessert festival in York.

Spread Market Program
Plans for the activities of the peach industry committee of the outlined at a recent meeting of the group. Among those attending the meeting were Mrs. Griest; Harry A. Peters, Scotland; R. Johnston Gillan, St. Thomas; John E. Linde, Orefield, and John U. Ruef, University Park. Peters is president of the Pennsylvania State Horticultural Association.

Ruef, extension pomologist at Pennsylvania State University and secretary of the Pennsylvania State Horticultural Association, said increasing early acreage, starting with Early Red Free about July 20, will enable the growers to spread their marketing program over a longer period than heretofore. Red Haven, Sun High and Hale Haven are again expected to be the most popular early varieties while the major Elberta crop, due from late August to mid-September, will account for about 60 per cent of the total production.

Peaches are grown in 57 of the 67 counties in the state but six counties, Adams, Franklin, York, Berks, Lehigh and Erie, have 50 per cent of all orchards and 75 per cent of the peach trees in the state. Adams County, with 195,765 peach trees, has the second largest concentration of peach in the state. Franklin County is high with 402,075 trees.

Linde, chairman of the peach committee of the state fruit growers unit, said the growers estimate of 2½ million bushels is about the same as the 1954 harvest, and a quarter-million bushels better than last year, when drought hit some sections and there were some late spring frosts.

Eruptions of Mt. Etna in Sicily have been recorded as far back as the eighth century B.C.

60,000 TREES, SHRUBS PLANTED IN ADAMS COUNTY

Approximately 60,000 trees and shrubs have been planted by county farmers on idle acres and "out-of-the-way" places on farms, Richard Long, county soil conservationist, announced today.

Of the number, 25,000 trees were furnished to Adams County Soil Conservation District cooperators by the P. H. Glatfelter Co. of Spring Grove. Other trees and shrubs were furnished through the cooperation of the Pennsylvania Game Commission and the Soil Conservation Service.

Several farmers interplanted trees in open areas in the woodlot, thus planning to produce a timber stand that will provide a wider selection of lumber for farm use and sale, Long said.

Raymond Leer, York Springs R. D., was reported as planning to plant 2,000 conifers in a small field that is inaccessible except by a round about route. He told soil conservationists he feels that in the long run a good woodlot in that particular field will be the most profitable use of the land.

Rose Fence
B. J. Roberts, of Fairfield and Waynesboro, one of the group who are planting through arrangements with the soil conservation service and game commission, is placing over a mile of multiflora rose fence on his 300 acres near Fairfield. He maintains a breed herd of about 100 Angus cattle and will use the roses as a "living fence" along borders of the pasture fields. The multiflora fence will permit mowing on either side of the roses and will also serve as travel lanes and protective cover for small game.

John Hostetter, Gettysburg R. D., is planting 7,000 tree seedlings, and several thousand shrubs including Coral Berry, Autumn Olive, which is described as an outstanding food for quail and pheasants, High Bush Cranberry, Silky Dogwood, Tartarian honeysuckle, Lespedeza Natob and Japanese crab.

Long added that farmers desiring trees and shrubs for planting in 1957 should visit the county soil conservation district office on York St., Gettysburg.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 3,000 delegates of the United States States Chamber of Commerce were advised Monday not to succumb to the "synthetic good will" of the same Kremlin leaders who "were part and parcel of the great Soviet bloodlettings."

President Boyd Campbell of Jackson, Miss., declared in a prepared keynote address for the Chamber's 44th annual meeting that "the same old gang is ruling Russia — minus Stalin."

The Chamber's 1,700,000 affiliated business men and women, he said, will insist on "keeping America's defense impregnable while we watch and wait for more convincing evidence of the Soviet's regeneration."

Littlestown

LITTLESTOWN: Final arrangements for a spring horse show will be made at the monthly meeting of the Carroll-Adams Riding Club Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the club house at "Sunset Hill Farm," near town. It will be held on Sunday beginning at noon at the club grounds, along the Menges Mill Rd.

John D. Basehoar and Wilbur A. Bankert of the attendance committee will be in charge of the program for the Lions Club dinner at 7 p.m. Thursday, in the social hall of St. John's Lutheran Church.

Members of St. John's Lutheran Church who will participate as visitors for the coming evangelism mission will meet at the church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

A joint meeting of the Consistories of St. James' Reformed Church and St. Luke's Reformed Church will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m., at St. Luke's Church.

The fellowship at Christ's Ambassador's frolic will be held Saturday evening. The location is to be found by following the arrows starting at the community square. Events will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will close with a camp fire. Punch and marshmallows will be served. The Assembly of God Church youth group is sponsoring the affair.

Mrs. Emory H. Snyder, N. Queen St., will be hostess to the Frances Segner Missionary Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church for the May meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Farmers Night Is Observed By Rotary

Farmer's Night was observed at the dinner meeting of the Littlestown Rotary Club Tuesday evening at Schott's Hotel. Several reels of film concerning farming were shown by Lloyd L. Stately, Rev. Dr. Nevin E. Smith, Hanover, offered the invocation. The following farmer guests were presented: Mervin Miller, Mervin Weikert, Lewis Lippy, Charles Budd, George Mayers, LeRoy Lippy, Fred Fissel, Vernon Snyder and Donald Stuffle.

The program for the meeting next Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. will be in charge of the international service committee, composed of S. Clair Trostle, chairman, Luther D. Snyder, Bernard F. Schott, Rev. David S. Kammerer, Lloyd E. Crouse and Preston L. Myers.

Mother's Day will be observed at the Rotary meeting on May 29, with the program committee, consisting of L. Robert Snyder, chairman, Paul E. King, Dr. Howard A. Stonestier, Frank E. Basehoar, Clyde W. Crouse and Thomas C. McSherry in charge.

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (AP)—Do you leave coins and other items in the pockets of garments sent to the cleaners?

If so, don't feel bad. A man here left $1,800 in a suit coat pocket.

A shocked cleaning shop clerk found the wad and returned it to the patron. The shop withheld the patron's name because "it might prove embarrassing."

Advance Plans For YMCA Boys' Camps

Plans were made for the July 9 to August 3 YMCA camp for boys 8 to 11 years of age at a meeting Tuesday night of the Day Camp Committee at the Y. Samuel C. Sollenberger Sr., chairman, presided.

There will be two periods of two weeks each. Boys will meet at 9:30 o'clock each morning to camp at Pardee Field, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. They will make a special trip on Wednesday. The program will end at 4:30 o'clock each day. There will be one overnight camp-out during each period. Handicraft supplies, T-shirts, and luncheon beverages will be furnished for the camps. Two meals for the overnight campout will be furnished. Chester S. Byers represented the Littlestown parents on the Day Camp committee. Steven Schultz represented the Student Christian Association which is cooperating with the YMCA.

The Day Camp Committee will present its proposed budget and camp fee to the county YMCA board at a meeting at the Shetter House May 15 at 6:15 o'clock.

"DEATH MARCH" MARINE MAY GET COURT-MARTIAL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine Corps said Tuesday Sgt. Matthew McKeon was under the influence of liquor when he ordered recruits on a night march in which six were drowned. Court-martial trial of McKeon was recommended.

Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, Marine Corps commandant, also ordered Maj. Gen. J. C. Burger transferred from the command of Parris Island, S. C., training base, where the tragedy occurred. In addition he directed a sweeping reorganization of recruit training.

Pate's recommendations were made public when he appeared before the House Armed Services Committee to report on a corps investigation of the April 8 incident, the actions he has taken and the measures he has proposed to the Secretary of the Navy.

Secretary To Decide
The decision on convening a general court-martial to try McKeon is up to the secretary, Charles S. Thomas.

The general's testimony may determine whether Congress launches its own full scale inquiry into the night march into a South Carolina swamp to "teach the men discipline."

Pate said that over the years the system of stern discipline and tough training of recruits, administered by experienced non-commissioned officers, had proved good for the Marines. But he added that "some practices have crept in . . . which . . . do not comport with the dignity of the individual."

Therefore, Pate said, he is putting in a new system of supervision both at Parris Island and the other Marine recruit training center, San Diego, Calif. He said he will oversee this new system himself through a chain of officers reporting directly to him.

Ban Hazing Practice
This direct supervision, he said, will continue until it is certain that "any and every practice which may have arisen at Parris Island or San Diego which involves or suggests hazing, mass punishment or any other form of treatment incompatible with accepted American standards of human dignity (has been) absolutely eliminated."

Pate reported that the Marine court of inquiry, which is a fact-finding but not a trial body, found that McKeon, on the day of the fatal march, began drinking in his barracks.

Ordered Night March
The record of the court also indicates that while under the influence of alcohol to an undetermined degree he unfortunately chose to order his platoon out on a night march because of minor deviation from the very strict standard of conduct to which recruits must adhere.

The court of inquiry found that

McKeon had no authority to order such a march for the 78-man platoon under his instruction, that he took it into hazardous ground—the tidal swamp area around the base—without observing such safety measures as using white cloths for visibility, and without having reconnoitered the ground first.

The court also found that after the men entered one of the tidal creeks, McKeon did not order them out until panic developed as they got into deeper water.

Court-martial trial was recommended also for two other non-commissioned officers accused of drinking in McKeon's barracks—Sgt. Richard J. Kane and Staff Sgt. Elwyn B. Scarborough.

There are almost no tides in the Mediterranean.

HOUSE GOP STOP ADJOURNMENT OF LEGISLATURE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House Republican leadership Tuesday threw up a roadblock in front of final adjournment of the Legislature hinging on Gov. Leader's action on some 171 million dollars in appropriations.

House GOP Leader Smith said he would recommend that his caucus stop any adjournment plans until the governor completes action on the appropriations.

"We don't want the governor to cut back appropriations after we've gone home," he told a newsman. "It isn't politically smart on our part or morally right on his part to let him make the cuts."

He referred to a host of appropriation measures on the desk of Speaker Andrews (D-Cambria). They have been on Andrews' desk for weeks as part of a mutual agreement between Andrews and Leader.

Want Leader's Signature
They include 67 million dollars for debt service for the 440 million dollar World War II veterans bond.

As the Legislature returned to Harrisburg today after a two-week recess to give them time to campaign for the primary election, the House GOP leader said he expected the GOP caucus would refuse to adjourn until after the governor signed the tabled appropriations.

Smith said he was fearful that the governor would cut back some of the amounts in the appropriations.

"I hear that the governor is cutting the estimate of the sales tax back to 275 million dollars (from 321 millions) and he'll have to cut appropriations," said Smith.

Supreme Court Decision Forces Subversive Activities Control Board To Stop Action On Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Subversive Activities Control Board has suspended consideration on all of its cases following a surprise Supreme Court decision in the action against the Communist Party. The SABC was directed by the high court to reconsider its findings against the Red Party.

The board, under the Supreme Court decision, may order a new hearing to give the Communist party a chance, if it can, to discredit the testimony of three gov-consider the procedural problems presented.

The board indefinitely postponed further action in five so-called open cases. These are cases involving alleged Communist-front organizations of labor unions allegedly infiltrated by Reds. In these cases, hearings have not been held or no preliminary findings have been issued.

As the first affirmative step in suspending further proceedings in these cases, the board called off a hearing scheduled for Tuesday involving the National Negro Labor Council of Detroit, an alleged Red front.

Other open cases involved the Washington Pension Union of Seattle, the California Labor School of San Francisco and the American Peace Crusade of New York, allegedly infiltrated by Communists. They are the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America.

Reds Charge Paying

Herbert said it normally requires about 25 days between the time the Supreme Court hands down a decision and receipt of its formal order.

In its appeal to the Supreme Court, the Communist party contended that perjury was committed by three government witnesses — Paul Crouch, now dead; Manning Johnson and Harvey Matusow — at hearings before SABC.

The court's majority decision put to the board the option of dropping their testimony from the record or giving the party a chance to prove its contention of perjury.

WILL BOLSTER CEASE-FIRE ON BORDER OF GAZA

By ERIC GOTTGETREU

JERUSALEM (AP) — The U. N. truce organization Tuesday announced plans to bolster the Israeli-Egyptian cease-fire with U. N. observer posts and mobile U. N. patrols along the tense Gaza border.

The truce supervision headquarters said Israel and Egypt had agreed to the new border arrangements in a new attempt to prevent further hostilities.

The announcement came as U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld went into a new meeting with Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion. Each was accompanied by a battery of aides.

The headquarters announcement said "steps have been taken for the recruitment of the additional number of observers made necessary by this agreement."

Plan Guarantee

Hammarskjöld and Ben-Gurion were meeting to discuss additional details of the practical border arrangements to guarantee the Israeli-Egyptian cease-fire.

The U. N. diplomat planned two additional meetings with the Israeli leader, this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon. There he will prepare his final report to the U. N. Security Council, which sent him out April 6 on the peace mission amid a flurry of Israeli-Arab border outbreaks.

Meanwhile, Jordan replied to Hammarskjöld's proposals for a cease-fire between that nation and Israel. Premier Samir Rifal said in Amman the reply was harmonious with the attitude of the other Arab states.

An official source in the Jordanian capital said the reply was "positive" to a certain extent. But he emphasized that neither Jordan nor Israel's other Arab neighbors would tolerate any Israeli attempt to divert the Jordan River for irrigation.

STEEL FIRMS
PLAN TO END
LABOR CONTRACT

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some of the basic steel producing companies in an unprecedented move have notified the United Steelworkers they intend to terminate the current labor contract June 30.

The union received such notices Monday from several big firms. Among them were U.S. Steel Corp. and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

The action paves the way for the steel industry to present a united front in the event the union attempts to call a "selective strike" in coming negotiations.

USW President David J. McDonald in the late stages of last year's wage talks indicated he might strike some companies and permit members to continue work at others. That split the industry's usually united stand in labor negotiations.

Notifies Companies

Last week, McDonald notified 172 steel companies and iron ore mining firms that the union wants to negotiate a new contract for 650,000 of its members. The current one expires June 30. The union would be free to strike then if agreement isn't reached.

Under the Taft-Hartley law both union and companies are required to give 60-days notice in advance of any work stoppage. Last year the companies had not given such notice at the time McDonald began talking of a "selective strike."

But the notices received by the union Monday would meet the Taft - Hartley requirements. All the steel companies would be free to close their plants should the union try to strike one or two without bothering the others.

None of the companies would comment on such a possibility. A spokesman for U.S. Steel said:

Attaches No Significance

"Technically there should be no special significance attached to the notice. It is made to comply with what might be a procedural requirement to the Taft - Hartley law. Our counsel advised it."

J. I. L. also said it had acted on the advice of its counsel.

The unprecedented move is significant because the union is expected to present some extremely high-priced and difficult demands to the steel industry when negotiations get under way.

The union's 170-member wage policy committee is scheduled to meet here May 14 and 15 to formalize demands.

McDonald and other officials have already spoken openly on union desires for a substantial wage increase, a supplemental unemployment benefit program, improved welfare benefits and premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work.

Jockey Willie Hartack will ride for Calumet Farm at Hialeah this winter.

BARKLEY'S DEATH
RECEIVED WITH SHOCK, SORROW

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says "the nation is the poorer" because of the death Monday of Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky).

Former President Truman called Barkley "one of the finest men I ever knew."

These comments, in essence, summed up the shock and sorrow with which Republicans and Democrats alike received the news of Barkley's fatal attack in Lexington, Va.

Eisenhower, who sent a personal telegram of condolence to Mrs. Barkley, said in a statement that the veteran Kentucky lawmaker "had a long and distinguished record of public service for the people of his state and country."

"Great Congressman, Senator"

Truman, in Huron, S.D., for a speech, said: "I am just as sorry as I can be to hear of Sen. Barkley's passing. . . . He was a great congressman, a great senator, and one of the greatest vice presidents of the nation. . . ."

Barkley was vice president during Truman's 1949-1953 term. Previously, they had served in the Senate together.

Richard Nixon, who succeeded Barkley as vice president, said he "always will remain in the hearts of the American people the one and only Veep" — the title his grandchildren had given him.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, called Barkley "a faithful friend of labor throughout his long career in the public service."

"A Terrible Loss"

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas termed Barkley's death "a terrible loss for millions of Americans." Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said the country and Kentucky "have lost a great citizen and a great senator."

Adlai Stevenson, campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination, paid tribute in Seaside, Ore., to Barkley's "courtesy, kindness and gallantry" and said, "This is a very sad day indeed."

Sen. Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, another Democratic presidential aspirant, said Barkley personified "the best of the qualities we seek in our national leaders."

"Great Personal Loss"

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) recalled that Barkley and he entered the House on the same day in 1913, adding: "His death is a very great personal loss to me."

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler spoke of Barkley's death as "an immense loss." Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall wired Mrs. Barkley: "All America shares your sorrow. . . . Alben Barkley was a great American."

CONVICT CLINGS TO MURDER YARN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Georgia convict clung to his story under cross examination at the murder trial of Raymond P. Wilson Monday that Wilson admitted robbing and killing Mrs. Lulubel Rossman.

The convict, Edward C. Nixon, said Wilson, of Tulsa, Okla., made the admission in Las Vegas, Nev., jail cell the two men shared while awaiting extradition.

Nixon testified Wilson told him that Mrs. Rossman, a wealthy Philadelphia widow, was killed because Frank J. Ellsworth, one of three other men under indictment for the murder, "got too rambunctious," during the robbery.

Mrs. Rossman was found strangled in her hotel apartment last July 4. She was 76.

Nixon said he reported the conversation to an FBI agent after telling a "federal marshal."

"The FBI man came to my cell and I told him what was told to me. I told him all I wanted to do was to see that Wilson as a killer got what was coming to him. At first he didn't believe me any more than you do," Nixon testified under cross examination by defense counsel Louis F. McCabe.

During a court recess, Dist. Atty. Victor H. Blanc said the FBI had Nixon put in the cell with Wilson to gain Wilson's confidence and to get information. He said Nixon later was moved to a separate cell for protection.

Nixon was awaiting extradition to Georgia, where he now is serving a 5-year term for burglary and robbery. Wilson was awaiting extradition to Pennsylvania.

McCabe reviewed the witness' criminal background in an effort to discredit the testimony.

Decries Remedies
For Mental Illness

CHICAGO (AP) — A specialist in mental diseases asserted Tuesday that psychiatry, shock treatments, brain surgery and drugs have failed to solve the problem of mental illness.

Dr. Percival Bailey, director of the Illinois State Psychiatric Institute of Chicago, lashed out at many modern techniques for treating mental states as dangerous or ineffectual.

In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Assn., Dr. Bailey, a former specialist in brain surgery, said:

"The task of psychiatrists, it seems to me, is to get back in the asylums and laboratories, which they are so proud to have left behind them, and prove, by established criteria, that their concepts have scientific validity."

ADDERMAN CONVICTED

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — John P. Eckel, 34, a Lock Haven alderman, was convicted by a Clinton County jury on eight indictments of extortion, perjury, unlawful collection practices and malfeasance in office.

But Eckel's attorney, Patrick H. Plerro, said he would file a motion Thursday for a new trial. Judge Charles Scott Williams deferred sentence until Friday.

Eckel was also found innocent Saturday of two charges of extortion.

RED SAYS REDS SEEKING GOOD U. S. RELATIONS

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
LONDON (P)—Home from his tour of Britain, Nikita Khrushchev told a welcoming throng in Moscow Monday the Soviet Union favors establishing good relations with the United States and "we shall do everything in that direction."

The Moscow radio broadcast in detail the news of the return of the Communist party boss and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin from their 10-day visit in Britain. Bulganin was quoted as saying the trip was of great political and practical significance.

By the broadcast account, as monitored in London: Khrushchev blamed "certain influential circles in the United States" for blocking an end to the cold war and added:

"Desire For Improvement" "Yet we think that in the United States, too, there are signs of a desire for improvement. Eisenhower's speech to newspaper editors testifies to this, although we cannot agree with some of the things he said. The Soviet government is in favor of establishing good relations with the United States and we shall do everything in that direction."

In a speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors on April 21, President Eisenhower said a Soviet government genuinely devoted to the legitimate interests of the Russian nation "can have friendly relations with the United States and the free world for the asking."

Khrushchev followed Bulganin to the flag-decked speakers' rostrum at Moscow's military airport, where, the radio said, tens of thousands of persons applauded them in warm spring weather.

Seek U. S. Invitations
The two flew to Moscow from Kalingrad, the former German city of Königsberg. They had departed there from the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze, which brought them from Portsmouth. Khrushchev's avowal of a desire for good relations with the United States seemed a hint that he and Bulganin would accept an invitation to visit there.

Man Who Fleed Nazis Returns To Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (P)—Paul Abraham, who composed some of Germany's most popular light operas, returned Monday more than 20 years after he fled from Nazi oppression.

The Hungarian-born Jewish composer arrived aboard a chartered plane which brought aliens deported from the United States for health reasons. Most of the passengers were mental patients.

When the musician stepped from the plane, a small band struck up a medley of his tunes.

Abraham had been a patient in a New York mental hospital since he had suffered lapses of memory, according to a West German consulate officer. However, his musical abilities had not been impaired, the officer added.

The composer was to be taken to a Hamburg clinic.

During their 10-day stay in Britain, which ended last Friday, Bulganin made it clear he hoped Prime Minister Eden would help establish better relations between the Soviet Union and the United States. He described relations between them now as "far from normal, which we regret."

Khrushchev himself told a farewell news conference in London he thought the United States an interesting country and that anyone would welcome the opportunity to visit it "if he had business there."

The Moscow broadcast said that, in his talk at the Moscow airport, Khrushchev said:

"Remove Disagreements" "Given mutual desire, we should be able, step by step, to remove all disagreements. The Soviet government will continue to strive for a relaxation of international tension."

"We are in favor of contacts with all peoples and Socialist parties. In the interests of the working class, the Communist and Socialist parties must be in contact for the sake of relaxation of international tension."

Khrushchev thus referred to his brush with British Laborites who doused his life when they asked, at a dinner party, about the status of Social Democrats—Socialists—behind the Iron Curtain. Khrushchev abruptly brushed them aside.

THREE KILLED, 1 WOUNDED ON ISRAEL BORDER

JERUSALEM (P)—Israel said Monday its casualties from weekend incidents on the Egyptian-Israeli border mounted to three dead and one wounded.

Egypt and Israel, parties to a 12-day old cease-fire agreement, each blamed the other for the flareup.

The accusations came as U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld neared the end of his peace mission to the Middle East, begun April 6. He held a final meeting in Cairo Monday morning with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.

An official Israeli announcement said a second soldier died Monday as a result of a mine explosion under a military vehicle. The first was killed Sunday at the time of the explosion near Izhak village close to the frontier of Egypt's Gaza Strip. Israel also reported a farmer was killed in another incident Sunday.

Sources in Cairo close to Hammarskjöld expressed belief the disturbances would not affect the outcome of his mission.

His conference with Fawzi Monday followed a talk Sunday night with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser.

He planned to leave Egypt later Monday for his last discussions with officials in Israel, winding up his mission. He is due to report back by May 4 to the U. N. Security Council in New York.

A well-informed source in Cairo said Egypt now was willing to accept Hammarskjöld's proposal that Egyptian and Israeli forces on the demarcation line be pulled back out of sight of each other. The exact distance would be determined by terrain and local circumstances.

Egypt was previously reported to be insisting that troops withdraw 500 meters—575 yards—on each side of the line. Nasser proposed this last fall.

An Israeli spokesman said Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett had complained to Hammarskjöld of "acts of renewed Egyptian aggression."

Young Mother Sues Miss Martha Raye

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—Martha Raye is "completely shocked" by an alienation of affections suit brought against her by a 20-year-old mother, says the comedienne's attorney.

The suit was filed Saturday by Mrs. Barbara Ann O'Shea of Westport, Conn., wife of a former bodyguard of the TV star. Mrs. O'Shea contends that Miss Raye gave her police husband Robert money and "costly gifts" while he served as her bodyguard. O'Shea is 27. The O'Sheas have a 15-day-old child.

"Miss Raye is completely shocked at this totally unexpected action," said Miss Shirley Wolf, the comedienne's attorney. "She has never had any romantic alliance with Mr. O'Shea."

O'Shea also denied the charges brought in the suit.

Army Expects To Defeat The I.C.B.M.

WASHINGTON (P)—The Army is confident it can develop a defense against the intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

"We expect to be able to defeat the ICBM," Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, chief of Army research and development, told the House Appropriations Committee, "but it is going to be a job."

Gavin's testimony, taken behind closed doors and edited for security by the committee Tuesday.

The general pictured a bleak future for enemy pilots, saying: "We think with the surface-to-air missiles that we now have in development, the prospects of manned enemy aircraft surviving are very limited indeed."

Manu-Mines Sues Turnpike For Mine-Filling On Road

HARRISBURG (P)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission faces a $943,852 court suit filed by the Manu-Mines Research and Development Co. over mine filling work on the superhighway's northeastern extension.

The Reading firm, in a suit filed with Dauphin County Court Monday, contended the commission "failed to pay for services and work, equipment and materials" for the drilling and casing of slushing holes and asked immediate payment.

The commission, which has 20 days to answer the court suit, had no immediate comment.

Two contracts totaling $2,278,351, held by Manu-Mines and Rogers Construction Co., Scranton, were canceled by the commission last Thursday on grounds a cheaper method of mine filling had been discovered.

Contracts canceled involved the filling of mine cavities along the right-of-way of the extension in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties.

GET STATE POSTS

U. S. Soldiers May Be Wearing Berets

WASHINGTON (P)—The Army is thinking of outfitting its troops with berets—but the idea already has one Congress member aghast.

Army quartermaster officers told the House Appropriations Committee, in testimony made public today, that the Army has "under study" proposals to outfit all troops in green berets.

Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) said he thought berets might be good morale builders for special units like paratroopers, "but not GI berets for the whole Army."

"I think it is fine to have a hot-shot outfit . . . wearing it, but I will have something to say before they break out the Army in berets," Flood declared.

EPISCOPALIANS PLAN CAMPAIGN

PHILADELPHIA (P)—A $750,000 capital fund campaign was proposed Tuesday at the 172nd annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania.

Bishop Oliver J. Hart, diocesan head, in his annual report, said $500,000 of the fund would go to the Philadelphia Divinity School, now planning for its centennial in 1957.

The additional $250,000 would take care of church needs in Bucks, Delaware, Chester and Montgomery counties.

Bishop Hart also said in 1956, the diocese has increased its pledge to the National Episcopal Church and its worldwide missionary program by $105,000. He urged the various churches of the diocese to "put the missionary quota ahead of everything else."

Bishop Hart announced the retirement of Robert T. McCracken, chancellor of the diocese since 1944, and the appointment of Thomas B. K. Ringo to succeed him.

Emmanuel Church at Quakertown, a mission for the past 60 years, received diocesan approval to become a self-supporting parish. Old St. Paul's, Edgely, was reported sold and consolidated with the new St. Paul's, Levittown.

Buildings in progress, the convention was told, include a replacement for St. Cyril's, Coatesville.

DUBOIS, Pa. (P)—Paul Bender of Wernersville is the newly elected president of the Volunteer Firemen's Assn. of Pennsylvania, succeeding Frank Chmielecki of Liberty Borough, near Pittsburgh.

Other officers selected Saturday were:

Richard Hillman, Curwensville, first vice president; William Penabaker, Lewistown, second vice president; Leslie Johnson, Nanty

LAUDS OIL, GAS INDUSTRY FOR HELPING PROBE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said today "the oil and gas industry put its best foot forward" at the first public hearing held by a special Senate committee investigating lobbying and influence.

Referring to testimony yesterday by Manton Nixon of Corpus Christi, Tex., Gore told newsmen: "I do not say that his testimony was instigated for that purpose, but he seems to have received no discouragement in appearing before the committee from any source within the industry."

Nixon is chairman of the General Gas Committee, set up in 1954 to work for passage of a bill to free natural gas producers from direct federal regulation.

Resented 'Activities'
In vetoing that bill, President Eisenhower said he was in accord with the basic objectives of the measure, but he denounced what he called "highly questionable" activities in its behalf by a small segment of the industry.

Nixon—no relation to the vice president—testified the General Gas Committee, financed largely by oil and gas producing companies, gathered and distributed what he called "facts" about the gas bill, but did not engage in lobbying members of Congress.

He denied knowledge of any illegal or improper lobbying for or against the gas measure—or any

Fail To Prove Bard Was Literary Fraud

CHISLEHURST, ENGLAND (AP) — Stonemasons pried open a 400-year-old tomb Tuesday to prove William Shakespeare was a literary fraud but found nothing to damage the Bard of Avon's reputation.

After two hours of digging into the St. Nicholas Church tomb of the Walsingham family, they lifted a heavy marble slab to reveal a few fragments of glazed tile, a load of sand and a layer of brick.

They holed through the brick and lowered a light, revealing only a lead casket below. The government has decreed the casket may not be opened.

The project was the brainchild of Calvin Hoffman, 49-year-old New Yorker. He had hoped to find early 17th century documents to prove his theory that Christopher Marlowe, an Elizabethan poet and dramatist, authored the plays and poems attributed to Shakespeare.

FATAL BRIDGE CRASH

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A car failed to negotiate a curve on Rt. 100 south of here early Tuesday and rolled into a concrete bridge abutment, killing one of its occupants and seriously injuring two others.

State police identified the dead man as Richard McEmery, Jr., 42, of Wilmington, Del.

The driver, Chester J. Domaniski, 28, of Wilmington, Del., suffered other injuries, for that matter. He said he didn't have any possible leads to give the Senate investigators.

SAYS ATTACK IS A "SMEAR"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks today described as a "smear" inspired by those "who hate private enterprise" a Democratic-controlled House subcommittee's criticism of the government's borrowed businessmen.

Weeks replied sharply, in an address prepared for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, to a report issued Sunday by the Democratic majority of a House Judiciary subcommittee headed by Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.).

That report said Weeks has permitted "WOC"—without compensation—officials to become "an instrument for inside influence and the advancement of special interests" in the Commerce Department. The Republican minority of the subcommittee sharply dissented.

Weeks said the nation is "fortunate" to have the services of such businessmen-aides, who remain on their industry payrolls while serving in the mobilization preparedness program.

There was no immediate reply from the subcommittee. Besides Celler, its Democratic members are Representatives Rodino (N.J.), Byron G. Rogers (Colo.) and Quigley (Pa.). The GOP minority is comprised of Representatives Keating (N.Y.), McCulloch (Ohio) and Scott (Pa.).

ANGRY YOUTH SHOOT MAN

MILFORD, Pa. (AP) — A 13-year-old boy who "got a little mad" when a man and his wife scolded him for target shooting near their home Monday turned his .22 rifle on them, fatally wounding the husband and critically wounding the wife.

State Trooper Evan R. Chaplin said James Van Why readily admitted the shooting after his capture in a field where he fled after wrecking and abandoning the couple's car.

Edward W. Ebele, 48, died of head wounds. His wife Margaret, 45, was in critical condition today in St. Francis Hospital at Port Jervis, N.Y. She was also shot in the head.

Chaplin said the boy "told us that 'We got a little mad at each other' and that was why he shot them."

Van Why had both the rifle and a .38-caliber pistol with him when arrested. He offered no resistance.

Dist. Atty. Clifton A. Cloud said he had not yet decided what charges to place against the boy. A 13-year-old may be charged with murder in Pennsylvania.
